

FIS joins the International Securities Services Association (ISSA) Board and appoints Mr. Matthew Stauffer as the Board member

Zurich, 06 July 2026

ISSA is pleased to announce the new appointment of FIS to the ISSA Board and Matt Stauffer as its Board member.

Matt Stauffer is Senior Vice President and Head of Trading & Asset Services at FIS, where he leads a global portfolio of solutions and services for clients across the front, middle, and back office within Capital Markets. The FIS Trading & Asset Services business serves both buy- and sell-side firms, providing technology ecosystems that support trading and compliance, fund and investor services, asset management, and post-trade processing.

Before joining FIS in 2023, Matt was Managing Director and Head of Institutional Trade Processing at DTCC, and President and CEO of DTCC ITP LLC, leading global middle-office trade processing. Previously, Matt served as CEO of Clariant Global LLC and as Managing Director for Strategy and Business Development at DTCC. Earlier experience includes roles at Accenture's Financial Services practice.

Matt has more than 25 years of global consulting and financial services experience across strategy, business development, operations, and technology. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Cornell University.

Margaret Harwood-Jones, ISSA Board Chair, stated:

“ISSA is proud to welcome Matt Stauffer to its leadership community, underscoring our commitment to excellence in securities services and financial market infrastructure. With over 25 years of global experience spanning strategy, operations, and technology, Matt brings a wealth of knowledge from distinguished roles at FIS, DTCC, and Clariant Global. His deep expertise in post-trade processing, middle-office solutions, and emerging technologies such as data and AI will be instrumental in shaping the future of the global securities services industry. We look forward to the tremendous value and insight Matt will contribute as ISSA continues to drive meaningful progress across financial markets worldwide.”

Matt Stauffer said:

“I am honoured to join the ISSA Board at such a pivotal time for our industry. I look forward to working with fellow Board members and ISSA's wider community to contribute to the opportunities and challenges shaping the future of post-trade and market infrastructure.”
